Say Whether a Habit Is Worth Keeping

Express Opinion | OREO | Opinion Exchange

Name: _____ Date: _____

SLIDE 02 Today's goal

By the end of this lesson, I can:

Say whether a habit is worth keeping, give one reason and an example with a real number, say your opinion again, and answer a simple question.

WHO	You work in a small company in Johor Bahru. It is lunchtime in the office pantry, a week before payday.
SITUATION	Kumar buys a bubble tea every working day: RM8 a cup, five days a week. That is RM40 a week, about RM160 a month. Today he holds up his cup and asks the table: "Be honest. Is it worth it?"
NEED	Kumar wants your honest opinion, not advice. Then Mr. Tan sits down with his coffee and asks you a simple question.
GOAL	Say clearly whether the habit is worth keeping, support it with one reason and one example with a number, say your opinion again at the end, and answer a simple question.

SLIDE 03 Try it first

Kumar asks: “RM8 a cup, every working day. Be honest: is my bubble tea worth it?” Say something for 30 seconds. Then note what you said.

SLIDE 04 A good message

Mei Ling's answer. Mark where each part starts.

Honestly, Kumar, I don't think a bubble tea every day is worth it. The main reason is the money. RM8 doesn't sound like much, but it adds up fast. For example, five cups a week is RM40. That's about RM160 a month, more than my phone bill. So for me, one on Friday is a nice treat, but every day is not worth it.

O OPINION AGAIN

SLIDE 05 Organise it

Ali talks about a habit at work. Put his sentences in order: Opinion → Reason → Example → Opinion.

- [ ] For instance, the backup takes me 20 minutes a week, about 80 minutes a month.
- [ ] This is because a lost file costs much more time than a backup.
- [ ] In my opinion, backing up the office files every Friday is worth it.
- [ ] That's why I think it's worth keeping, and I do it before I go home.

Write the letter: O = Opinion · R = Reason · E = Example · O = Opinion again

SLIDE 06 Useful language

Tick the expressions you used today.

SLIDE 07 Connect the ideas

Choose the connector and write the new sentence.

1. Kumar buys a bubble tea every working day. [so / because / but] He spends RM40 a week.

   _____

2. I keep my morning walk. [because / but / so] I don't want back pain again.

   _____

3. A bubble tea every day is too much. [so / but / because] I still like one on Friday.

   _____

4. Small daily costs add up over a year. [For example, / That's why / But] RM6 a day is over RM2,000 a year.

   _____

SLIDE 08 Time control

Circle the right form. Why?

1. Kumar _____ a bubble tea every working day. (A habit: something done again and again)
   - ○ buys ○ buying ○ buy
2. I don't _____ it's worth it every day. (An opinion now)
   - ○ thinking ○ think ○ thinks
3. RM8 doesn't sound like much, but it _____ up fast. (A fact that is true now)
   - ○ add ○ adding ○ adds
4. My morning walk is worth _____. (After 'worth')
   - ○ kept ○ keeping ○ keep

SLIDE 09 How often · a week, a month

A habit is Present Simple plus how often (every day, twice a week). Put a number on it: a day → a week → a month. Then say if it is worth it.

Kumar buys one every working day.

That's RM40 a week, about RM160 a month.

I usually walk for 30 minutes before work.

What's your reason? Can you give me a number?

Opinion Exchange

Your card has a habit and some facts. Decide if it is worth keeping and tell your view. Your listener writes your opinion, reason and number, reads the note back, then asks one question.

1. Two quiet minutes with your card. Decide: worth keeping or not? Choose one reason and one number (money or time).
2. Round 1 (3:00 each): say your card number, then your view O → R → E → O. Listener: fill the note, then read it back.
3. Listener: a box is empty? Ask for it. If not, ask one question. Swap roles. Line B moves. Round 2 (2:00 each): shorter.
4. Line B moves again. Round 3 (1:00 each), frames closed: workbook turned over. Listener: write Yes or No and the number.

SLIDE 12 Respond

Mr. Tan asks. Write a short answer to one of these.

1. Sorry, I missed the start. Kumar's bubble tea every day: what's your opinion, in one sentence?
2. How much is Kumar's bubble tea in a month?
3. What about one bubble tea on Friday only? Is that worth it?

Start with: In one sentence: I think … · It's about RM… a month. · For me, once a week is …

SLIDE 13 Transfer

At work, your team of six has a 15-minute meeting every Monday at 9. Everyone hears the plan for the week, but nobody answers the phone for those 15 minutes. Mr. Tan asks: is it worth keeping? Give your opinion, one reason and an example with a number.

I think the Monday meeting is … · The main reason is … · For example, every week we … · So overall, …

SLIDE 14 Did I do it?

Be honest. Tick what you did in the task.

- [ ] States a clear opinion: worth keeping or not.
- [ ] Supports it with one reason and an example with a number.
- [ ] Says the opinion again at the end.

Listener cards: fold or cut

Only the listener looks at a card. It says what to find out and write in the note.

Card 1 · Phone in bed

Ask: "Your phone in bed at night: is it worth keeping?" Write their opinion (yes or no), their reason and their number. A box is empty? Ask for it. If not, ask: "How many hours do you sleep?"

Card 2 · Saturday run

Ask: "Your Saturday run: is it worth keeping?" Write their opinion (yes or no), their reason and their number. A box is empty? Ask for it. If not, ask: "How long does it take?"

Card 3 · Tracking every ringgit

Ask: "Writing down every ringgit: is it worth keeping?" Write their opinion (yes or no), their reason and their number. A box is empty? Ask for it. If not, ask: "How long does it take?"

Card 4 · Lunch from home

Ask: "Cooking your lunch on Sunday: is it worth keeping?" Write their opinion (yes or no), their reason and their number. A box is empty? Ask for it. If not, ask: "How much do you save in a week?"

Speaker cards: fold or cut

Only the speaker looks at a card. The listener keeps this page folded.

Card 1 · Phone in bed

Every night you watch short videos in bed from 11 to about 12.30. It helps you relax after work. Your alarm goes at 6.30. Most days you feel sleepy by 3 p.m.

Card 2 · Saturday run

Every Saturday at 7 a.m. you run 5 km round the park near your condo. It takes about 40 minutes, so you can't sleep late on Saturdays. Your back hurts much less now, and you sleep better.

Card 3 · Tracking every ringgit

Every night you type everything you spend into an app. It takes about 5 minutes. Last month the app showed you something new: about RM300 on food delivery. Your friends say it's boring.

Card 4 · Lunch from home

Every Sunday you cook lunch for the whole week: 2 hours in the kitchen. A lunch box from home costs about RM5; lunch near the office is about RM12. You eat the same food five days in a row.
