Say What You Think Will Change in Your Work in the Next Few Years

Express Opinion | OREO | Opinion Exchange

Name: _____ Date: _____

SLIDE 02 Today's goal

By the end of this lesson, I can:

Say what you think will change in your work and how sure you are, support it with a reason and an example from today, and say what it means for you.

WHO	You work in a small company in Johor Bahru. It is lunchtime, and you are eating with colleagues at the mamak near the office.
SITUATION	Everyone is talking about changes at work: e-wallets, online orders, AI tools. Mei Ling says about 80 of her 100 regular customers now pay online, and only three still send cheques.
NEED	Siti asks each person: "Will our jobs be different in three years?" She wants a clear answer and a real example, not just "maybe". Later, Mr. Tan joins the table and asks you a question too.
GOAL	Say what you think will change and how sure you are, give one reason and one example from work today, and say what it will mean for your job.

SLIDE 03 Try it first

Siti asks: “So, what do you think? Will our jobs be different in three years?” Say something for 30 seconds. Then note what you said.

SLIDE 04 A good message

Mei Ling's answer. Mark where each part starts.

Personally, I'm quite sure I'll handle much less cash in my accounts job in three years. The main reason is that most of our customers pay online now. For example, these days about 80 of our 100 regular customers pay by bank transfer or QR code. Only three still send cheques. So I'll probably spend more time checking payments on the computer. Yes, I really think my job will change.

O WHAT IT MEANS · OPINION AGAIN

SLIDE 05 Organise it

At the sales meeting, Mr. Tan asks Kumar about online orders. Put his sentences in OREO order.

- [ ] This is because customers still want to talk to a person before a big order.
- [ ] For instance, most weeks about ten customers find us online, and nearly all of them call me first.
- [ ] So I'll keep visiting customers. That's why I think we'll still need a sales team in three years.
- [ ] In my opinion, online orders will grow, but they won't replace our sales team.

Write the letter: O = Opinion · how sure · R = Reason · E = Example from today · O = What it means · opinion again

SLIDE 07 Connect the ideas

Choose the connector and write the new sentence.

1. Most of our customers pay online now. [but / so / because] We handle less cash.

   _____

2. Online shops are open all night. [but / For example, / so] Some customers still like to visit the shop.

   _____

3. I think our jobs will change. [or / but / because] Customers want to do more things online.

   _____

4. My job in accounts will probably change. [But / For example, / That's why] Only three customers still send cheques.

SLIDE 08 Time control

Circle the right form. Why?

1. These days, most customers _____ by QR code. (A fact about now)
   - ○ pays
   - ○ pay
   - ○ paying
2. In three years, my job _____ different. (What you expect later, and you are sure)
   - ○ will be
   - ○ will being
   - ○ will is
3. Online orders _____ grow next year. (Possible, but not sure)
   - ○ mights
   - ○ might
   - ○ might to
4. Our customers _____ go back to cheques. (Sure it will not happen)
   - ○ don't will
   - ○ won't
   - ○ won't to

SLIDE 09 will · probably · might: how sure are you?

A prediction is an opinion about the future. Tell the listener how sure you are: will (sure) → will probably → might (maybe) → won't (sure it will not).

My job will change. I'm sure.

Customers will probably use e-wallets more.

The shop might open on Sundays.

Cash won't disappear next year.

Opinion Exchange

Say what you think will change, from a card. Your listener writes your view, how sure you are, your reason and your example, and asks for any part that is missing.

1. One quiet minute with your card. Choose: will, will probably, might or won't? Pick ONE reason and ONE example.
2. Round 1 (3:00 each): tell O → R → E → O. Listener: note it, read it back, ask for any empty line, then one question.
3. Swap roles. Then line B moves one seat. Round 2 (2:00 each): same card, new partner, shorter.
4. Line B moves again. Round 3 (1:00 each), workbook turned over: tell your OWN job view from Build. Listener: column 3.

SLIDE 12 Respond

Mr. Tan asks. Write a short answer to one of these.

1. When do you think that change will come?
2. What will stay the same in your job?
3. What will you need to learn for it?

Start with: I think in about … years. · I think … will stay the same. · I think I'll need to learn …

SLIDE 13 Transfer

At a family dinner, your aunt asks: "In three years, will we still pay cash at the pasar malam? Will we still go to the bank?" Say what you think will change for your family. Give a reason and an example from today.

I think in a few years, … · The main reason is that … · For example, these days my mother … · So for our family, …

SLIDE 14 Did I do it?

Be honest. Tick what you did in the task.

- [ ] Says what they think will change, and how sure they are.
- [ ] Gives one reason and one example from today.
- [ ] Says what it will mean for them, then gives the opinion again.

Listener cards: fold or cut

Only the listener looks at a card. It says what to find out and write in the note.

Card 1 · Paper forms

Ask: "Will we still use paper forms in three years?" Write their view, how sure, their reason and their example. Last line of your note empty? Ask: "What will that mean for your job?"

Card 2 · AI and emails

Ask: "Will AI tools write most of our emails in three years?" Write their view, how sure, their reason and their example. Last line of your note empty? Ask: "What will that mean for your job?"

Card 3 · Training courses

Ask: "Will we still go to hotel training courses in three years?" Write their view, how sure, their reason and their example. Last line of your note empty? Ask: "What will that mean for your job?"

Card 4 · Phone calls

Ask: "Will customers still phone the office in three years?" Write their view, how sure, their reason and their example. Last line of your note empty? Ask: "What will that mean for your job?"

SLIDE 11

Speaker cards: fold or cut

Only the speaker looks at a card. The listener keeps this page folded.

Card 1 · Paper forms

Will the office still use paper forms in three years? You collect the expense claims: about 30 paper forms a month, by the 25th. Leave requests are in the HR app now, and one takes 2 minutes. Two older colleagues like paper.

Card 2 · AI and emails

Will AI tools write most of our emails in three years? You use a free AI tool for customer emails in English and Malay. One email takes you 5 minutes, not 20. But you check each one, and about 1 in 5 needs changes.

Card 3 · Training courses

Will staff still go to hotel training courses in three years? This year, 6 of your 8 courses are online videos at your desk. A 2-day hotel course costs about RM900 a person. At the last one, staff asked about 20 questions.

Card 4 · Phone calls

Will customers still phone the office in three years? You answer the office phone: it rings about 10 times a day now. About 70 customer questions a day come by chat message. But older customers still like to talk to a person.
