Share a Learning Experience and What You Took From It

Narrate | PPF | Experience Sharing

SLIDE 02 Today's goal

By the end of this lesson, I can:

Tell someone about a course, a training or a mistake in order: when and where it happened, what you learned, what you do now, and one result so far.

WHO You work in a small company in JB. Once a year, Mr. Tan has a short review with each person, and he fills in a form while you talk.

SITUATION It is your review. Mr. Tan says: 'Tell me about one thing you learned (a course, a training or a mistake) and how you use it now.' Last week Mei Ling told him about her Excel course in March: the claims now take her two hours, not two days.

NEED He writes four things on the form: what happened (when and where), what you learned, what you do now, and one result so far. He needs them in that order, with a real example.

GOAL Tell one learning experience in order (Past → Present) so that Mr. Tan can fill in the form, then answer his simple questions.

SLIDE 03 Try it first

Mr. Tan asks: "Tell me about one thing you learned: a course, a training or even a mistake. How do you use it now?" Say something for 30 seconds. Then note what you said.

SLIDE 04 A good message

Mei Ling's answer. Mark where each part starts.

In March, I went on a one-day Excel course at a training centre in JB. In the afternoon, the trainer showed us one formula that checks a long list in seconds. Now I know I don't need to check every claim by hand. Before the course, that job took me two full days every month. These days, when all the claims are in on the 25th, I put them in one sheet and the formula finds the mistakes. It takes me about two hours. So far this year, I've found six wrong claims, and every payment has gone out on time.

P WHAT HAPPENED

P WHAT I LEARNED

F HOW I USE IT NOW

! THE RESULT SO FAR

SLIDE 05 Organise it

Kumar tells Siti about a mistake with a new customer: what happened → learned → now → so far.

- ☐ Now, the night before, I check the map and plan to leave 20 minutes early.
- ☐ What I learned is simple: a new place always takes longer than I think.
- ☐ Last year, I drove to a new customer in Senai for the first time. I got lost and arrived 40 minutes late.
- ☐ So far, I haven't been late for a customer again.

Write the letter: P = What happened · P = What I learned · F = How I use it now · ! = The result so far

SLIDE 07 Connect the ideas

Choose the connector and write the new sentence.

1. Checking the claims by hand took two days. [for example, / so / but] I was always tired at the end of the month.

   _____

2. Before the course, I checked every line by hand. [Because / So far / Now] I use one formula.

   _____

3. The trainer showed us the formula. [But … / When … / For example …] I wrote it down.

   _____

4. I was 40 minutes late for a customer. [So now / because / For example,] I always check the map the night before.

SLIDE 08 Time control

Circle the right form. Why?

1. In March, I _____ on a one-day Excel course. (What happened, with a time)
   - ○ going
   - ○ have went
   - ○ went
2. Before the course, checking the claims _____ me two full days. (How it was before)
   - ○ taking
   - ○ was take
   - ○ took
3. Now, every month, the formula _____ the mistakes for me. (What happens now, every time)
   - ○ finding
   - ○ find
   - ○ finds
4. So far this year, I _____ six wrong claims. (The result up to now)
   - ○ have find
   - ○ has found
   - ○ have found

SLIDE 09 Then → now

Say how it was before in the Past Simple, then what you do now in the Present Simple. For the result up to now, use so far + have / has.

Before the course, checking the claims took two days.

Now the formula finds the mistakes for me.

These days, I check the map the night before.

So far, I've found six wrong claims.

Experience Sharing

The speaker tells a learning story from a mixed-up card. The listener cannot see the card: they fill in the learning note and ask one question.

1. Round 1 (3:00). Speaker: say your card number, then tell it in order, with 'I': what happened → learned → now → so far.
2. Listener: fill in the note, number the lines as you hear them, read it back ('You started with …'), then ask.
3. Round 2 (2:00): listeners move one seat. Same story to a new listener, shorter. Listeners use the next column.
4. Round 3 (1:00), frames closed: workbook turned over, card in hand. Swap: rounds 1–3 again (5–12: own story).

Card 1 · A wrong number on an order

Card 2 · A first-aid course

Card 3 · A call from a fake bank

Card 4 · An online course on saving money

SLIDE 12 Respond

Mr. Tan asks. Write a short answer to one of these.

1. When was that, and where?
2. What was the most useful thing you learned?
3. How often do you do that now?

Start with: It was in …, at … · The most useful thing was … · I do it every … / about … times a week.

SLIDE 13 Transfer

Your cousin is starting driving lessons and asks: 'Did you ever learn something the hard way?' Tell one experience from outside work, not the one you planned today: what happened, what you learned, what you do now. No story? Last year you parked under a 'No parking' sign near the night market and paid a fine. Now you always look for the sign first. So far, no more fines.

A few years ago, … · What I learned was … · Now I always … · So far, …

SLIDE 14 Did I do it?

Be honest. Tick what you did in the task.

- [ ] Says when and where it happened, then what happened.
- [ ] Says what they learned and what they do now, with one example.
- [ ] Gives one result so far, with a number or a time.
